From "Great to Late" Pete Heals What Ails Your 4-Wheel Pony

A big red fire engine must start every single time without hesitation, just like your car when it's time to go to work.

Pete Rucinski, owner of Pete's Automotive on Highway 12 has the knowledge and integrity to be trusted with the lives that depend on a real life fire truck, and he's got all the skill and experience to keep you humming down the road.

From "Great to Late," — from factory new cars to rolling antiques, Pete and his right hand man Jason Elder have the touch and consideration to heal what ails your four-wheeled pony.

From simple things like oil changes to deeply technical subjects like your automatic transmission, their work is so good they've earned the Value Star Certification.

This designation requires a high customer satisfaction rating.

electronic diagnostic equipment recognized throughout the automotive industry for peerless quality. Pete and Jason exhibit equal quality in their skill with both domestic and foreign cars.

Pete's is located less than a minute east of the Sebastopol Laguna on Highway 12. In flood weather, Pete's Automotive might have to close the doors for a few days. But every other working day of the year, Pete's is ready to help you with emergency repairs, tune-ups, tricky electrical work, recharging your air conditioner, intricate engine work, or smoothing the "grind" out of your transmission.

Pete's Automotive is the perfect place for maintenance and repairs on popular sports utility vehicles.

For fifteen years Pete's Automotive has earned a solid reputation for integrity and straight talk — no bull. So you can trust your family car — or fire engine — with Pete's Automotive.
